

Dear traveler,

Your trip is coming up!

We here at Control Group Air would like to welcome you in advance for your reservations to Watching Night Falling.

If you purchased multiple tickets, please forward this document to other ticket holders.

Here's some important information about your trip:

Check-in begins at 6:20pm. We will begin promptly at 6:45pm. Preshow begins at 6:30pm. Feel free to arrive early and enjoy a glass of wine!

Check-in is at the desk by the elevator below the Infinite Monkey Theorem wine bar at Stanley Marketplace.

We'll be walking about one mile over sometimes uneven terrain. We strongly recommend closed-toed shoes and full leg coverage, and encourage you to travel light.

We'll be outside from sunset to full dark. Please dress for a 10-20° temperature drop during the event, and for the weather. This event will happen rain or shine, as safety permits.

YOUR JOURNEY:

Parking is available in the Stanley Marketplace parking lot and adjacent streets. We will return to our start point at the end of our journey.

Once the event begins, we will not have access to public restrooms, and we

Additionally, this journey will entail:

- Walking outside on paved, gravel, and dirt paths for ca. 3/4 mile over 90 minutes;
- Walking up and down some gentle hills, and one steeper hill (with assistance);
- Invitational interactions with performers;
- Exposure to mosquitos and other bugs;
- Potential exposure to light rain and/or winds.

WAIVER:

All travelers will be asked to complete a waiver on site, and we are unable to accommodate patrons who have not completed one.

WEATHER:

The journey will go on as scheduled through inclement weather, including light rain, unless weather conditions become threatening to the audience or staff. Dress accordingly for the day's forecast and plan ahead. In the event of severe weather during the journey, we will seek shelter and wait to see if the weather clears.

In the event of a cancellation by Control Group, patrons will be contacted for re-booking (subject to availability). Otherwise, all orders are final and all tickets are non-refundable.

QUESTIONS:

We are excited that Watching Night Falling is a completely unique and unprecedented performance experience. But if you have any questions, don't hesitate to contact us at this email address.

Yours,
Control Group Productions

From the desk of:

Patrick Mueller
Artistic Director

www.controlgroupproductions.org | 303-947-2827